Dispute Arises Over Billboard Depicting King

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — A man who erected a large billboard linking Dr. Martin Luther King with communism today promised court action to permit display of the sign.

City workers in suburban Parma Heights tore down the large billboard on orders from the mayor.

But Robert Annable, who applied for a permit to erect the notice, said the sign was not illegal. "We did every- thing they told us to do," he contended.

Annable, who said one local and two national organizations were involved in the matter, said he would consult an at- torney.

Paul W. Cassidy, mayor of the suburb, ordered removal of the 10 by 15 foot sign on grounds it was illegally erected. The board reads "Martin Luther King at Com- munist Training School," with an arrow pointing to King.

Dr. Fiske Dies; Noted Specialist

Dr. George Foster Fiske, widely known physician, artist, world traveler and marksman, died Monday afternoon at Sing- ing River Hospital. Dr. Fiske had suffered a heart attack last Tuesday.

Dr. Fiske came to Pascagoula in 1945, but he had already es- tablished a national reputation as an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist and had become pro- ficient in many other endeavors.

Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday at the funeral home with religious ser- vices at Sacred Heart Catholic Church at 10 a.m. with the Rev. Patrick Quinn officiating. Bur- ial will be at Jackson County Memorial Park.

Besides his wife, Antonia Ma- ria, he is survived by a brother, Sam, a retired professor of law at Harvard.

He told acquaintances after he and his wife had moved into their Beach Boulevard home, "I fell in love with the area and decided this was the place I wanted to settle."

Dr. Fiske, who numbered gov- ernors, senators and congress- men among his New Hampshire forebears, began his career in medicine March 2, 1918 in Chi- cago, Ill.

LOYOLA GRADUATE

His education and background had well prepared him for the career in medicine he was to have. He received his doctorate of medicine from Loyola Uni- versity at Chicago after having attended Cayne House School, Newport, R.I.; Phillipe Exeler Academy, Exeter, N.H. and the University of Chicago, where he was a member of Nu Sigma Nu Fraternity.

A Rosary will be said for Dr. Fiske at 8 o'clock tonight at the Jackson County Funeral Home chapel.

Such was his reputation in the medical field, that the state of California granted him a li- cense on his reputation, and qualifications, passing up the usual requirement for an ex- amination. Mississippi's license was issued by reciprocity.

Besides his renown as a phy- sician, he gained wide fame as an artist. His paintings have been on display in many art galleries.

Japan, Korea Sign Treaty

TOKYO (UPI) — Japanese and South Korean officials today capped 14 years of negotiations by signing a treaty aimed at establishing normal relations between the two countries. Thousands of students in both na- tions rioted against the accord.

More than 10,000 fanatical Zengakuren students swarmed through the streets of Tokyo and bat- tled police near the U.S. Embassy. The United States favors the treaty.

Authorities said 90 policemen were injured by rocks and stones hurled by the leftist stu- dents. Police said 18 students were arrested in the "illegal" demonstrations.

Japan, Korea Sign Treaty

TOKYO (UPI) — Japanese and South Korean officials today capped 14 years of negotiations by signing a treaty aimed at establishing normal relations between the two countries. Thousands of students in both nations rioted against the accord.

More than 10,000 fanatical Zengakuren students warmed through the streets of Tokyo and battled police near the U.S. Embassy. The United States favors the treaty.

Authorities said 90 policemen were injured by rocks and ones hurled by the leftist students. Police said 18 students were arrested in the "illegal" demonstrations.

Later 200 Japanese attempted to march on the foreign ministry but were forced back by ranks of helmeted police.

STUDENTS CHARGE
In South Korea, thousands of students charging a government "sellout" in the treaty attled club-wielding police in three major cities.

Many South Koreans are still bitter as a result of the years of colonial rule of their country that came to an end with Japan's defeat in World War II.

The treaty, and four agreements settling outstanding disputes between Japan and South Korea, culminated 14 years of tough negotiations and put a normal end to a half-century of enmity.

The United States, allied to both countries, has been pressing hard behind the scenes to encourage the accords.

Only parliamentary ratification is now required to open up a new era of diplomatic and economic cooperation between Japan and South Korea. But that was by no means certain, especially in Seoul, where opposition to the treaty was stiff.

Ministers Sign Accord
Foreign Ministers Tong Won Lee of South Korea and Eisusaburo Shiina of Japan signed the historic documents at 4 a.m. EDT at Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's official residence here.

A total of 3,000 policemen guarded both the home and the foreign office to prevent possible leftist demonstrations from disrupting the 50-minute ceremonies.

The United States is known to feel that the agreements will contribute to the stability of non-Communist Asia. Japanese economic aid would bolster the shaky Korean economy, long dependent on U. S. aid.

It was while he was in France that he met his wife, the former Antonia Maria Mitats of Barcelona, Spain.

His Marksmanship was also an early accomplishment that brought him renown. In 1920 he was a member of the U.S. Pistol Team which won the world championship at Baveloo, Belgium.
